PACIFISTS DEFEATED

How the people of the country, especially the voters, look upon the pacifists, is evidenced by the defeat of every congressman who had received the disapproval of President Wilson. Miss Rankin, representing one of the Montana districts in congress, was decisively defeated for the senate at the primaries last Tuesday. All congressmen who voted against war measures were also relegated to the discard. Henry Ford, who was asked to become a candidate in Michigan to succeed William Alden Smith, was selected by both Democrats and Republicans, and will be elected under the law at the November election. The people feel that this is not the time to fool with indifferent politicians and that the sooner they are put in the background the better off the country will be.

ARIZONA COMPENSATION LAW

Wm. A. Marshall of the Oregon State Industrial Accident Commission has a reputation for being a specialist on such legislation.

He has given the Arizona law, to be submitted to a vote of the people in November, a careful examination.

His judgment is expressed in the following summary, which shows this law is a splendid start in the right direction.

The law provides a liberal scale of compensation for injured workmen and for the prompt payment of compensation at frequent intervals, while at the same time affording the employer entire relief from litigation by making compensation under the law the exclusive remedy of the injured workmen.

"Although purely an elective law, requiring affirmative action by the employer to come under its protection, doubtless the effect of the sections depriving the employer of his common-law defenses will be to bring employers under the law in such numbers as to eliminate any question as to the insurance fund having a sufficient volume of business.

"The provisions establishing a fund from which compensation payments are to be made constitute a desirable feature, and I am confident will result in such an economic saving as will make possible the payment of reasonably liberal compensation to injured workmen without making the cost an unnecessary handicap to the industrial activities of the state.

"The solvency of the fund is assured through adequate provisions to care for the catastrophe hazard, and also authority for the revision of rates when experience indicates the need."

OUR FUTURE MERCHANT MARINE

At the request of Chairman Harley of the U. S. Shipping Board, Chambers of Commerce on the Pacific coast are taking up the problem of how best to encourage, build up and maintain an American Merchant Marine after the war.

The Pacific Shipping and Maritime Committee, Associated Chambers of Commerce of Pacific Coast, suggests: "A National Ship-owners Association for the purpose of considering national shipping problems, dividing main association into four districts; headed by sub-committees; namely, Atlantic, Gulf, Pacific and Great Lakes for purpose of considering their local problems. Would not such an organization be of great value to the Shipping Board if it could express the unanimous sentiment of ship owners regarding necessary legislation now governing American owners competing with other maritime nations." This is a highly important problem at this time as on the establishment of satisfactory policy and legislation rests the future of the American Merchant Marine and our great shipbuilding industry.

READ NEWS FOR BERLIN

The war news from the eastern front these days is bad news for the German people. Quotations from German newspapers portray the gloom that overhangs the people in the large cities. That the people in the small towns and country are equally depressed is not to be doubted.

The Liberty Loan bond buyers of the preceding loans have their share in the success of the entente allies. They furnished the sinews of war not only to fight the U-boats and to build ships, not only to raise, equip, and send our soldiers over, not only to supply them and our allies with food and munitions, but more than $6,000,000,000 of their money has been loaned to our allies so that they may prosecute the war with vigor and strength.

We here at home have an opportunity to send the Germans some more bad news. The Germans have great respect for money; they know its vital value in waging war. They know, too, that the support the American people give a Government loan measures largely the support they give their Government, the moral as well as the financial support they give their armies in the field.

A tremendous subscription to the Fourth Liberty Loan will be as distressing to the German people as a defeat for them on the battle field, and it will mean as much. It spells their defeat; it breaks their morale; it means power to their enemies. A subscription to the loan is a contribution to German defeat and American victory.

The Best Advertisement in The World

IT IS THE TICK OF THE CLOCK.

It says only one, short word, but it says that word over and over.

Here the tick is loud, there low.

But always millions on millions of clocks are saying it. It never stops.

It speaks to a baby's ears, and to the dying hours of an old man.

It speaks in time of joy; in time of grief; in time of idleness, or struggle and stress; in time of peace, or time of WAR.

It never stops.

Always it is telling the old, old story of the clock, "Time Flies."

Always it is repeating the stern lesson of life, "The World Forgets."

It never stops.

And it has made the clock the best known thing in all the world.

Such is the power of reiteration.

Such is the power of persistence.

Such is the power of constancy.

Call the advertising roll of honor, the world-famous advertising, alive to answer.

None ever stopped. All have told their story over and over, and still are telling it.

Advertising stopped is advertising dead.

Advertising brought back from the grave must foot again the long, old road from the very beginning.

NOW is the time to advertise—the only time.

Advertise tomorrow when tomorrow is NOW.

Listen to THE TICK of the clock, as it tells you: "Time flies. The world forgets."

NOW is the time to advertise.

ROBERT E. RINEHART.

HIS REPLY

"Doctor McQuack declares that it will be necessary for me to go to the springs for a couple of months," said Mrs. Scraggington. "What have you to say?"

"Get another doctor," said Mr. Scraggington.

WILLIAM WAS PATRIOTIC
"William," demanded Mrs. Whitewash, "what for you go an' put on dat noisy plaid vest?"

"Mandy," declared Mr. Whitewash, "'cause Ol'm tryin' t' help Mistah Hoover lick de stuffin' out'n de kaiser by keepin' a check on may appetite."

A TASTY RESPECTABLE BOY
The ever-burning question, "What shall we do with our boys?" seems to be satisfactorily answered in the following advertisement, which appears in the window of a Harrisburg butcher shop: "Wanted—A respectable boy for beef sausage."

NO CHARGES LEFT OUT

"I'm afraid," said the junior member of the law firm, "that we are causing our client unnecessary trouble."

"Oh, that's all right," rejoined the senior partner, "we'll charge him for it."

GOSSIP

The bly told a passing breeze—
Who told it to the lark—
That she was sure the rose had kissed
The linnet in the dark.

The linnet—who was very vain—
Sulked when he heard the tale,
For he had happened by and knew
She kissed the nightingale!

Doesn't Act Like Whiskey

Many times have we read, and it is not unlikely that our readers have also read time and time again of government and other reports on the content of the "bug juice" now being vended to the unsuspecting victim under the nom de plume of "bootleg whiskey."

In confirmation of the above reports of the content being sulphuric acid, muriatic acid, carbolic acid, wood alcohol, ether, tobacco and various and sundry other undrinkable potions we quote a story that we have recently heard anonymously that we would lead one to believe that such must be the constituent parts.

The story is to the effect that one of the residents of town, who sometimes is wont to take unto himself a small amount of the oil of joy, went home one evening with a small sized bottle and unfortunately the better part of the family discovered the same said bottle and hid it among the clothes of her trunk.

Sometime after she discovered that the contents of the bottle had gotten away in some manner and spread itself through the clothing and much to her dismay, when a silk shirt was washed in an effort to rid it of the smell of liquor, the cloth came forth not as a whole but in shreds.

With these facts at our command, and with our limited knowledge, we would venture to suggest that this is not whiskey.

LED HIS TICKET FOUR TIMES IN BIG MARICOPA COUNTY

Is the Record of Loren F. Vaughn, Candidate for State Treasurer

LOREN F. VAUGHN

RUNNING STRONG IN GILA COUNTY

A press dispatch from Globe states that Loren Vaughn, candidate for state treasurer, was in that city last week meeting old friends and making new ones and that his services on the democratic State Central committee some years ago, his six years of democratic newspaper work together with his legislative record through five sessions have given him a broad acquaintance and friendship in Gila county, and then winds up by saying: "Gila county will surely give him the lion's share of her vote." What the MESSENGER (Phoenix) says:

The very fact that Mr. Vaughn led the ticket four times—two primaries and two general elections—in Maricopa, the largest county in the state, shows something of how his friends at home regard him and The Messenger has no hesitancy in giving outside counties an idea of what his record has been, briefly:

As an educator or legislator he has always stood for the best interests of the farmer, laborer and that great 80 percent of humanity, the common people as Lincoln called them; his vote and labors were found on the side of the farmer for dairy legislation and six per cent farm loans, on the side of labor for a minimum wage for women, and on the side of humanity for better schools, higher moral standards and the ratification of the national prohibition amendment and he bears the distinction of being the author of the soldiers' voting law.

Mr. Vaughn has many friends in Mohave county who are working for his nomination and election; in the newspaper field and legislative work he has broad acquaintances and Kingman and Oatman will, no doubt, give him a big vote—his friends are the kind that work, they stand for principle and the rights of humanity.

THE OPTIMISTIC RECRUIT

(By Corporal Laurence Lockney, Co. F., 604th Eng.)

One hundred years from now, old pal,
As moves the hand of time,
We'll never hear the captain's plea
For "Right front into line!"

We'll never "Dress!" again in squad,
Nor "Cover off!" in file,
Nor will we hike through dale and glen,
For many a weary mile.

We'll never hear the bugle's call,
In gray dawn's early light,
Which gets us up for reveille
At the end of an army night.

We'll never dine on army beans,
Nor feast on army prunes,
Nor will we sing, with wild acclaim,
Uncensored army tunes.

Then we may rest in sylvan shade,
And cool our fevered brow,
On that happy day of which I speak
One hundred years from now.
